President’s Passover Message
April 2nd, 2018

The Jewish eight-day celebration of Passover begins Friday, March 30 at sundown. The Passover story of deliverance from captivity and the long passage to a homeland of freedom remains crucial for all of us who live in a world which continues to wrestle with its own many forms of enslavement and the tragedy of the many peoples deprived of a homeland, of dignity, and basic rights.

We wish our Jewish colleagues and students, their families, and gathered friends a very blessed and meaningful holiday celebration. May their beautiful tradition inspire us to actively participate in the liberation that G-d intends for all people.
