Regis University president's statement on the death of George Floyd
Office of the President
May 29th, 2020

It is with an aching and heavy heart that I must again speak out against the violence inflicted upon African Americans in our nation. Our country has much to atone for and heal from. The people of this nation, of Colorado and of Regis University must stand together peaceably against racism, oppression and senseless brutality. We must all take a stand against ignorance, hate and violence. I deeply mourn the unjust killing of George Floyd and I pray for our neighborhoods, cities and nation.

Prayerfully,

Rev. John P. Fitzgibbons, S.J.
President
